Reflection - .Welcome into the Kingdom Prepared for you.

Neither baptism nor profession of faith in Christ guarantees our entry into Christ's kingdom. What is most important is the way we treat the least of Christ's brothers and sisters. What we do for them we do for Christ. By our care for them, we reveal that our profession of faith at Mass is more than just words.

When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, he will sit upon his glorious throne, and all the nations will be assembled before him. And he will separate them one from another, as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.

Matthew 25:31-32

The Feast of Christ the King - established by Pope Pius XI in 1925

"And that is the "kingdom of Christ," the heart of Jesus' "reign": a community of real people who gather together, in all their brokenness and struggles, to follow Jesus. We give our time and talent to pick up one another when we stumble; with humility and gratitude, we reach out for one another's hand. Before God, we stand as brothers and sisters; before God, the distinctions of class and culture that separate us disappear; before God, we are all loved without condition or limit. Jesus' parable of the sheep and the goats challenges us to see the world in the light of God's compassion: as a community that is centred in the holiness of God that dwells within every man, woman and child; a community that sees deeper than the externals of race, nationality, culture and language in order to behold the love of God animating the lives of all who draw breath; a community that reflects the compassion and mercy of God in our care for one another." Advent Drapes - With Advent beginning next Sunday it would be appreciated if the drapes were changed to purple after our liturgy.
