REJECTED BUT LIFE-GIVING

Passion or Palm Sunday begins with the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem and the traditional blessing of palms. It also begins our celebration of Holy Week-Easter, the high-point of the Church's year. The Son of Man enters Jerusalem on a donkey, symbolising his intent to serve to the point of death (Matt 20:28). Today's Mass Readings continue this commitment to service. Our First Reading (Ish 50:4-7) is the third of the Isaiah Servant Songs. It provides the background to the unforeseen suffering of the Messiah. The Second Reading (Phil 2:6-11) reflects the understanding of the early Christian community of the human and divine status of Jesus. His passion is but the ultimate manifestation of the divine love that saw God become one with us in our need; Christmas is completed in Easter. Our Gospel is the Passion account of Matthew. Matthew's Gospel emphasises that in Jesus the hopes of the people of the Old Covenant (or Old Testament) are fulfilled. In that tradition the taking of innocent blood was considered a monstrous crime. Matthew's Passion identifies those guilty of this crime against Jesus: Judas, who he goes off and hangs himself, Pilate who falsely claimed to be "innocent of this man's blood" and the people: "His blood be upon us and upon our children" (27:25). No verse in scripture has caused more suffering than this one" (Brendan Byrne). We all relate to our time and place. Matthew wrote after the Romans had destroyed the Jerusalem Temple in 70AD. He saw this as a consequence of the then leaders and their children being responsible for the shedding of the innocent blood of Jesus. "Their children' refers strictly to the coming generation – the generation that would be in its mature years at the time when Jerusalem fell to the Romans. There is absolutely no suggestion that the responsibility should somehow continue or that it should adhere to the Jewish people as a whole. This needs to be made expressly clear" (ibid). However, while an innocent victim, Jesus makes clear that he goes to his death in absolute freedom, as foretold in the scriptures (27:50-54). Reflecting on our time and place, Fr Andrew Hamilton SJ notes that Palm Sunday resonates with the experience of refugees. "Like Jesus in his entry into Jerusalem unarmed refugees also seek hospitality in centres of power. Like him, too, they are perceived as a threat, are driven off, imprisoned, maligned and left resourceless. They make us ask what a human being is worth when stripped of power and connections. Palm Sunday and the vindication of Jesus at Easter answer that question. Each human being is worth living and dying for." Where am I called to lift up, affirm or reach out to those who like Jesus are innocent victims of my actions or those of others?

LITURGY OF THE WORD Palm Sunday (A)

Commemoration of the Lord's Entrance into Jerusalem

Matthew 21: 1-11

Entrance Antiphon

Six days before the Passover,
when the Lord came into the city of Jerusalem,
the children ran to meet him;
in their hands they carried palm branches
and with a loud voice cried out:

* Hosanna in the highest!

Blessed are you, who have come in your abundant mercy!

O gates, lift high your heads;

grow higher, ancient doors.

Let him enter, the king of glory!

Who is this king of glory?

He, the Lord of hosts, he is the king of glory.

* Hosanna in the highest!

Blessed are you, who have come in your abundant mercy!

First Reading Isaiah 50:4-7

The Lord has given me

a disciple's tongue.

So that I may know how to reply to the wearied

he provides me with speech.

Each morning he wakes me to hear,

to listen like a disciple.

The Lord has opened my ear.

For my part, I made no resistance,

neither did I turn away.

I offered my back to those who struck me,

my cheeks to those who tore at my beard;

I did not cover my face against insult and spittle.

The Lord comes to my help,

so that I am untouched by the insults.

So, too, I set my face like flint;

I know I shall not be shamed.

Responsorial Psalm

(R.) My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?

(R.) All who see me deride me.

They curl their lips, they toss their heads.

'He trusted in the Lord, let him save him;

let him release him if this is his friend.' (R.)

(R.) Many dogs have surrounded me,

a band of the wicked beset me.

They tear holes in my hands and my feet.

I can count every one of my bones. (R.)

(R.) They divide my clothing among them.

They cast lots for my robe.

O Lord, do not leave me alone,

my strength, make haste to help me! (R.)

(R.) I will tell of your name to my brethren and praise you where they are assembled.

'You who fear the Lord give him praise;

all sons of Jacob, give him glory.

Revere him, Israel's sons.' (R.)

Second Reading Philippians 2:6-11

His state was divine,

yet Christ Jesus did not cling

to his equality with God

but emptied himself

to assume the condition of a slave,

and became as men are,

and being as all men are,

he was humbler yet,

even to accepting death,

death on a cross.

But God raised him high

and gave him the name

which is above all other names

so that all beings

in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld, should bend the knee at the name of Jesus

and that every tongue should acclaim

Jesus Christ as Lord,

to the glory of God the Father.

Gospel Acclamation

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ, king of endless glory!

Christ became obedient for us even to death

dying on the cross.

Therefore God raised him on high

and gave him a name above all other names.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ, king of endless glory!

Gospel Matthew 26:14 – 27:66

Commissioning of Ministers of Holy Communion

Take the life-giving gift of Christ's body and blood to those who cannot be with us, that they might know his presence and our solidarity in their brokenness and pain, as together we acclaim Jesus Christ as Lord.
